I. Methodology and miscellaneous

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

II. Market organization and behavior

A. Open outcry auctions

Coppinger, Vicki M., Vernon L. Smith, and Jon A. Titus. “Incentives and Behavior in
Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

Walker, James M., and Arlington W. Williams. "Market Behavior in Bid, Offer and..."
Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

B. Theory of Double Auctions

C. Posted price

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

D. Other competitive organizations

E. Sealed bid

Cox, James C., Bruce Roberson, and Vernon L. Smith. "Theory and Behavior of Single
Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

III. Conspiracy and monopoly

Cox, James C., and Isaac, R. Mark. “Incentive Regulation: A Case Study in the Use of Experimental Analysis in Economics.” In Shane Moriarity, ed., Laboratory Market
Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

IV. Tacit collusion and facilitating practices

A. Concentrated markets and repeated conflicts

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

B. Market practices

V. Assets and Time

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

VI. Information: Finance

VII. Information: Product quality

Berg, Joyce E., John W. Dickhaut, and David W. Senkow. "Signaling Equilibria in

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

VIII. Information: Search

IX. Externalities, public goods, and commons dilemma

A. Externalities

B. Public goods and free riding
Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

C. Incentive compatible processes

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

X. Committees: Majority rule

A. Agenda

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

B. Simple majority rule

Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

C. Voting over time

XI. Committees: Nonmajority rules

Laing, James D., and Benjamin Slotznick, eds. *When Anyone Can Veto: A Laboratory
Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

XII. Elections

XIII. The individual (a few studies)
Appendix I: Readings in experimental economics

XIV. Bargaining (A Few Studies)